Asperger french teens parents of Ottawa Support group

Asperger children are intelligent and appear to function relatively well in society. So we forget that they have needs that are different from others, which we need to address so that they can flourish and fully contribute to society to their best of their abilities. They certainly think differently and that's great! Well known personalities, such as Einstein, Mozart, Bill Gates, Thomas Edison and so many others also had Asperger syndrome. Our teens with Asperger are our future engineers, scientists and creators. So let's take care of them.

If you want to help children, support their parents. It is so true! In line with this statement, Aspirations francophones d'Ottawa was created with the following goals:

- Share our experiences with other parents of Asperger French teens
- Identify our challenges and needs as parents
- Identify our teens challenges and needs
- Identify solutions to address the needs and challenges of our teens
- Get funding to realize our projects
- Organize activities appropriate for our teens and their parents.
